CATHEDRAL MIDNIGHT MASS TELECAST WINS TELLY AWARD

Las Vegas -- The 2007 Christmas Midnight Mass LIVE telecast from Guardian Angel Cathedral was recently awarded a 2008 Telly Award, which honors worldwide excellence in television programming.

“We are honored that our Midnight Mass telecast has been recognized by the Telly Awards,” said Joseph A. Pepe, Bishop of Las Vegas. “We are fortunate to be able to present this special mass celebrating the birth of our Lord, Jesus Christ, to the Las Vegas community, especially those who are infirmed or homebound.”

Founded in 1978, the Telly Awards is the premier award honoring outstanding local, regional, and cable TV commercials and programs, as well as the finest video and film productions. The Telly Awards annually showcases the best work of the most respected advertising agencies, production companies, television stations, cable operators, and corporate video departments in the world. The Telly Awards is a widely known and highly respected national and international competition and receives over 14,000 entries annually from all 50 states and many foreign countries. Entries do not compete against each other. Rather, they compete against a high standard of excellence, and are judged by previous Telly Award winners.

The 2008 Midnight Mass at Guardian Angel Cathedral will take place on Christmas Eve, Wednesday, December 24th, and will once again be telecast live on KLAS-TV Channel 8.
